The chocolate coated world of Upali Malaysia

How his dream came true

By Lakmani R. Welgama Chairperson

I consider it a great privilege to pause a moment to pay a tribute to the memory of Mr. Upali Wijewardene.

Whilst others are writing extensively about personality issues and leadership qualities of Upali Wijewardene, I would often like to relate something about how he started his business career and how he was able to achieve success.

Although he intimated the idea of a new paper he chose to be very coy about it. He received little encouragement from them. Many suggested to him that he abandon the idea because of the prevailing political situation.
